SENIOR CLASS
GARRETT HIGH SCHOOL
GARRETT, INDIANA

"Ho-ho," you say,
"Just who are they
To think they are so dignified?
They're so stuck up, it hurts my pride
To think that good old G. H. S.
Would stand such snobs. I must confess
The students should not stand for it.
Such action isn't right or fit."

Yes, we'll admit
It isn't fit
To look on under-classmen so.
But after four hard years, we know
You'll think you sort of own the place,
And try to show each admiring face
That you are Master Know-it-all.
Watch each new senior strut next fall.

Thus, we make use
Of this excuse.
Perhaps it may explain to you
Some "high-hat" things we say and do.
Returning now to the main thing
That this poem is supposed to bring—
We are but an adventuring crew
Leaving the port we so well knew.

We've set each sail;
And wind and gale
Can give this staunch ship no distress.
It's manned by men of G. H. S.

Prologue

With the desire of making some material thing by which we could remember more vividly our high school experiences, the Senior Class of 1936 has produced this edition of the Aeolian. This yearbook is not the work of any one individual but it has been made possible through the cooperation of the entire high school. As editor, I wish to express my sincere appreciation of all efforts which in any way contributed to the success and completion of this Aeolian.

MR. WILL FRANKS

MRS. WILL FRANKS

With deepest sincerity, respect, and reverence, we dedicate this volume of the Aeolian to Mr. Will Franks, better known as "Uncle Billy", who, much to the sorrow of us all, brings to an end this year his long and colorful fifty-nine year career as a teacher, fifty years of which have been spent in Garrett schools; and to Mrs. Franks, who has kept him "on the job" for forty-eight of these years.

THE CLASS HISTORY

To the ninety-seven students who entered high school in the fall of 1932 were joined twenty-one more students at the beginning of the second semester. These two groups quickly blended their hopes and ambitions and began an eventful four years in Garrett High School.

During their sophomore year, Miss Evard, the class sponsor, organized the class with Richard Houser as president. Under the guiding influence of these leaders and the motto, "Aut inveniam viam aut faciam," ("I shall either find a way or make one,") the group participated in many happy affairs.

The third year was a delightful combination of willing work and happy events. Throughout the entire year the members of the class, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ellis and the presidency of John Kookan, sold candy, ice cream, and gum in preparation for the "Annual Junior-Senior Banquet." The Christmas party, and the Junior-Senior picnic, held at Trier's Park, added many happy pages to their book of life.

Under the guidance of Mr. Sherman, sponsor, and George Omohundro, president, the seniors planned their Year-book with Richard Houser as editor-in-chief. The Junior-Senior banquet, the Senior class play, and the Junior-Senior picnic, sponsored by the class of 1937, will come as the crowning events of their high school life. The presentation of diplomas to seventy students at commencement will close the high school activities.

CLASS POEM

So to our Alma Mater now we say,
"Farewell", but ever in our hearts remain
Fond memories of these glorious days of youth,
When in these corridors, in these crowded halls
We spent our happiest hours.
And happy hours
They were indeed.
We well recall with smiles
The everlasting struggle in the halls—
The charging mob loosed at dismissal time—
The milling crowds around the drinking fonts—
The dogs and cats that entered unobserved—
The nauseating odors from Room Four—
The hair torn out in economics class—
The sempiternal chatter everywhere—
And these things in our memories are endeared,
And shall endure as long as life is ours.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the senior class of 1936, do hereby will and bequeath our little idiosyncrasies which have been with us throughout our four years at G. H. S. We hope that those to whom these treasures are bequeathed will cherish them and put them to good use.

I, John Kookan, will my dimples to Jack Barnes, and may he never be called "Dimples."

I, Ferguson Thomson, will my hilarious spirit to someone who is inclined to look too much on the serious side of life.

To some girl who has dark hair and does not blush, do I, Charles Watts, will my fair hair and unlucky art of blushing.

I, Valetta Bloom, will my silver football and basketball trophies with A. H. S. to anyone who thinks she can get the owner away from me.

I, George Omohundro, will my position as "Parson of the Class" to anyone who can write a class poem like mine.

I, John Nagle, will my position as student manager of the basketball team to the person who will work diligently at it.

We, Paul Freygang and Jane Trainer, do hereby will and bequeath our loquacious tendencies to the entire student body. Look what it did for us.

We, Virginia Stoner and Florence Barbillion, will our palship to Kay Franklin and Helen Jones.

I, Jeanne Sanders, will my curly red hair to all those people who have envied it, either silently or audibly.

I, Margaret Hyde, will my unusual nickname, "Parg", to all the Margarets in school.

We, Glenn Corkwell and Bernadetta Dean, will the fun we have in Economics on discussion days to any other boy and girl who sit together next year.

I, Franklin Cole, will everything I have drawn in my high school days to the school, if it wants the drawings. This includes my prize-winning home room poster.

I, Dale Nixon, will my position as the fastest boy-typist to any person who doesn't make too many errors.

I, Alice Alford, will my nickname, "Tub", to Marjorie Ballentine. It will fit her as well as it fits me.

I, Earl Bishop, will my position as center on the basketball team to someone on next year's squad who will work efficiently.

I, Charles Brinkman, will myself to a dark haired sophomore girl.

I, Lenore Hassinger, will the remains of my chemistry equipment to Mary Micu.

I, Robert Gerner, will my position as sports editor to someone who will write interesting articles.

I, Harold Koble, will my vari-colored mixtures in chemistry to the person who is willing to take a chance.

I, Gladys Furnish, will my quiet ways to the people who make the assembly so noisy at noon.

I, Raymond Johoski, will my singing ability to next year's boys' glee club.

I, Louis Hyde, will my Economics test grades that are just like my cousin's to two other cousins.

I, Beatrice Hauck, will my ambition to be a nurse to someone worthy of the cause.

I, Richard Houser, will nothing away. I want to keep all I have. (Even stale gum, Dick?)

I, Walter Stoll, will my L. C. Smith typewriter to some patient person.

I, Max Case, will my position as the person with shortest name in the class to Alexander Yanuszeski.

I, Mary Carlin, will my idea of contrasts in boy-friends to Lois Russel.

I, Delmar Brown, will to my brother anything I have that he wants.

I, Florence Borts, will my ready smile to some freshman who will make good use of it.
I, Reinhart Bergstedt, will my ability in Chemistry and Physics to someone who can use it.

I, Everett Beehler, will my big, brown eyes to some dark-haired girl.

I, Ruth Beeber, will my position as queen of the North Side to Lucille McPheeters.

I, James Ballentine, will my "different" way of speaking to Pauline Busz.

I, Lois Babbitt, will to my little sister one-half of the knowledge I have acquired while in school.

I, Kenneth Anderson, will my seat nearest the door in Economics to anyone who likes to get out early.

I, Max Cattell, will my seat in Economics to someone who thinks he is liable to get cold.

I, Velma Diedrick, will my sparkling eyes to some sleepy sophomore.

I, Lourelei DePew, will my infrequent, but charming smile to some pupil who tries to act "big".

I, Harlan Ditmars, will my ability to run a mile to next year's track team.

I, James Dove, will the flutter I caused among the girls to the next person who enters these doors as a stranger.

I, Evelyn Ford, will my car to my little sister.

I, Merle Hathaway, will my blush that I exhibited once in English to someone who can make better use of it than I did.

I, Lucille Kock, will my blond hair to any person who has to use hair dyes.

I, Richard Lung, will my airplane models to the trophy case.

I, Lydia Markins, will my absent days from school to some methodical person.

I, Mildred Ober, will my ability to wear blue to someone who can not.

I, Opal Olinger, will my dramatic ability to Ardith Harrigar. She has a good start.

I, Bill Ort, will my horn in the band to Jerome Heinlen, if he can get it from Robert Herberger.

I, Mary Lou Rettig, will my interest in Missouri to the Missourians.

I, Dorcas Roseman, will my low voice to some would-be soprano.

We, Harold and Catherine Rahrig, will each other anything we have wanted that the other had.

We, Arthur Reusze and Arthur Roberts, will our cars to anyone who won't wreck them.

I, Fred Schick, will my hard-to-spell name to the office force.

I, Ruth Schulthess, will my height to Barbara Freeze.

I, Harry Shaffer, will my spectacular chemistry experiments to the next class.

I, Treva Smith, will my job in room five to someone who can say "Music to be left in the room" in an effective manner.

I, Floyd Somers, will my quiet manner to Ben Franklin.

I, Helen Tarlton, will my dark hair and fair skin to someone who admires the combination.

I, Treva Turney, will my good picture to someone from Auburn.

I, Alma Whelan, will my ready smile to the person who will take good care of it.

I, Ruth Wisenbaugh, will my ambition to be the first woman president to some conscientious girl who would like to be second.

I, Richmond Woodard, will my track ability to someone who will help win the cup for Garrett.

I, Russell Starner, will my "cookie duster" to Finley Custer.

I, Robert Koepke, will my ability to see a joke to Earl Sledge.

I, DeWitt Alexander, bequeath my interchangeable name to James Russel.

The entire Senior Class leaves a great affection for our school. We hope that each person will cherish this gift as each of us has.

We hereby set our seal upon this document this 27th day of March, 1936.

HOW WELL I REMEMBER

(A Composite Story)

I shall never forget the day we left the Will Franks building and came to the High School. We were a little happy and a little sad. We had been looking forward to this day as a very special day and here it was. Oh, we were so excited. We started to march, but most of us ran to the High School. It was an icy day; all the way books, pencils, ink bottles, and children were falling down. High school pupils were peeking out of the windows to get a glimpse of the ones they would have to see for the next few years. We wondered, "What will it be like? Where will we go? What will we do? Will we get lost? I'm sure we'll get lost in there; look at all those seats." Everybody's chest seemed to expand about three inches. We thought we were "quite somebody", but later we found out that we were only ourselves. When we got into the assembly room I wondered if that were our room, but I discovered later that we were not quite that important. I was quite afraid of Mr. Minniear at first; when we were seated he said that it was the quietest that pupils had come into the assembly for a long time. (Now I know the reason why.) He gave us a wonderful speech on how to act. Every minute held some new experience for us. The first day was the worst. We were always afraid that we would not reach our classrooms on time. The first week or two we spent all our spare time looking at the pictures in the halls. I felt rather queer walking in the halls with all the big "kids" like Case and the others. It was just like a fair when dismissal time came with 500 pupils trying to get through the halls to go home. It wasn't as bad as I thought it would be. We were treated very kindly. Most of us are pleased here and have appreciated the kindness and courtesy shown us.

JUNIOR HIGH PUPILS.

ACTIVITIES

A' CAPELLA CHOIR

The Garrett High A' Capella Choir in which both boys and girls participate, has, since its innovation, been substituted for the Boys' Glee Club. A' Capella singing, although more difficult, is more beautiful and pure than most vocal music because no accompaniment is used. The members of the choir have found this type of music novel and pleasant and hope the choir will be continued as an extra curricular activity.

BAND

Although the band has been organized for several years, it had done no marching until this season. Attired in simple but attractive uniforms, the band appeared at most home basketball games and two of the out-of-town games, marching at the intermissions. The success of the band this year was due largely to the efforts of Fred Casner, the conductor. Jeanne Sanders was the drum major, and Joseph Brinkerhoff was the assistant conductor.

BIBLE STUDY CLUB

The Bible Study Club meets regularly at the activity period on Thursday under the leadership of Mr. Sherman. The state study guide is used, and each year one of the four sections into which it divides the English Bible is studied. The Life of Christ is this year's unit. Members who attend regularly and do satisfactory work for two years receive one credit in elective English.

THE BLUE TRIANGLE

The Blue Triangle Club was organized three years ago under the direction of Miss Montgomery.

Its members are limited to Freshman girls and its purpose is to prepare them for worthy membership in the Girl Reserves, the following year.

Its present officers are: Kathryn Franklin, President; Dorothy Wagner, Secretary; Betty Stonestreet, treasurer; and Miss McKinley, sponsor.

DRAMA CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fitch throughout thirteen years of existence the Drama Club is still active. The aim and purpose of the organization is to teach its members self-expression and to give them instruction in dramatic art. Three plays were written and produced by members of the club and directed by the student coaches. Under the very excellent leadership of Mrs. Fitch the club has enjoyed a successful and interesting year. The parties and good times enjoyed by the club will be a source of pleasant remembrance.

The officers of '35 and '36 are: President, Paul Freygang; Vice-President, Opal Olinger; Secretary and Treasurer, Florence Barbillion; Program Chairman, Jane Trainer; Sponsor, Mrs. Fitch.

FRESHMAN BOYS' CLUB

This club is open to all freshman boys, and each year about twenty-five freshmen enroll. The four sided emblem reminds the boys that the aim is to develop socially, mentally, morally, and physically; the white center emphasizes the need for spiritual culture as a foundation for all other worthwhile qualities. The motto is: "Forward with Bravery and Courage."

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys studying Vocational Agriculture. It is designed to recognize and encourage the natural tendencies of boys to organize themselves into groups and put enthusiasm and pleasure in their work. It affords an opportunity for farm boys to learn principals and carry out group leadership, and to cooperate in farm projects. The purposes of the organization are: to promote vocational agriculture, create an interest in the choice of agriculture occupations, to provide recreational and educational entertainment for farm boys, and to promote thrift among its members.

The local organization helps to promote the County Muck Crops Show, the County Fair, a Livestock Judging team, and a Corn Judging team. It uses as its motto the following: Learning to do; doing to learn; earning to live; and living to serve.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club of Garrett High School is one of its most active and enjoyable organizations. The girls of the club, in a period of combined recreation and study, learn to read and understand music, signing it in two and three-part harmony. The music, selected by the director, is combined with that of the other Garrett music clubs and presented in an annual spring concert.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves have participated actively in the affairs of Garrett High School since 1924. The Club is affiliated with the National Y. W. C. A. and endeavors to teach the girls "To find and give the best" in the business of living. Seventy-six members under the leadership of Valetta Bloom, president; Peggy Owens, vice-president; Marie Noel, secretary; Lois Babbit, treasurer; Jane Trainer, program chairman; Beatrice Hauck, service chairman; Helen Jones, social chairman, and Miss Thrush, sponsor, comprise the organization.

THE HI-Y CLUB

Our purpose is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. Officers: Donald Painter, president; George Omohundro, vice-president; Reinhart Bergstedt, secretary; Richard Houser, treasurer. Our sponsor is Mr. Wilkinson. Six delegates represented our chapter at the Older Boys' Conference. Six local pastors gave lectures during the six weeks of Lent.

MAROON AND BLUE STAFF

The Maroon and Blue Staff has completed a very successful year under the supervision of its sponsor, Miss Evard. The paper which is published every four weeks occupies an "A" position in the National Mimeograph Exchange. The staff made an extensive study of school departments, recreation, and vocations to which various issues of the Maroon and Blue were dedicated. George Omohundro is the editor with Donald Painter as assistant.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, under the direction and supervision of Mr. Coble, this year is composed of about twenty pieces. In spite of several handicaps, they developed themselves into a musical organization which played before the public on various occasions, and took part in the annual program at the gymnasium in April.

RADIO CLUB—W9LTU

Purpose is to study radio. Objective is to become licensed amateurs. Founded in 1930 and has 19 active members. Has graduated about 30 members of whom 10 were licensed operators. The club visits WOWO and WGL each year as one of its activities. Officers: Richard Brechbill, president; Russell DeVeney, secretary-treasurer.

BASKETBALL

Winning fourteen of the twenty games on their schedule, the Garrett Railroaders had one of their best basketball records in the history of the school.

Garrett won both the first and second team divisions of the State Corner Conference. The Maroon and Blue's only defeat was suffered at the hands of Ashley and the Railroaders avenged this loss by trimming Ashley 40 to 22 in the sectional after holding a 20 to 1 lead late in the second quarter. Garrett was eliminated in the semi-finals of this tournament by the sectional champions, Auburn.

Eight varsity letters, eight reserve letters, and three managers letters were awarded.

Earl Bishop was chosen captain and was awarded a star on his letter as well as three bars for three years on the first squad.

TRACK

Only twenty-four boys were issued track equipment this year because of the inadequate dressing room space. All other boys who were interested in track were invited to try out in their gym suits and if they placed in the tryouts they were given a suit.

The track and football dressing rooms were converted into classrooms after the junior high school was moved into the high school building. Coach Bryan's office was used as a dressing room this year.

FOOTBALL

Being light and inexperienced, the Railroaders' football team was able to win only one of their eight games. The lone victory was a 13-to-0 victory over Bronson, Michigan. The game was played at Coldwater. In most of the games the Railroaders showed speed and fight but they did not have the necessary scoring drive. The score of the opponents was usually low. All of the teams on the schedule presented experienced lineups that were no match for Garrett. Twenty boys were awarded letters, eleven seniors, five juniors, and four sophomores. A letter was sent to the parents of Chalm Recktenwald, freshman member of the team, who died soon after basketball season was over. Chalm was the only freshman to play in enough games to earn a letter. Max Case was elected captain and received a star on his letter.

In Memoriam

We dedicate these lines to the memory of Chalm Recktenwald, whose untimely death brought to an end a promising career as an athlete, much to the deep sorrow of us all.

AUTOGRAPHS

BE BRAVE, COMRADES!

"At last! Freedom from hard drudgery"
Is the unheralded cry from those
Who with little thought or reflection
Believe twelve years of school is the close
Of all their worries and grief.
God pity and protect those who, with such ideas,
Are soon to go into the great world
To earn a living and add benefits
To that universal brotherhood of man.

But we as members of the class of '36
Pledge ourselves to banish all
Such foolish and biased ideas
And to enter with open minds upon
The positions of work which we choose—
Thinking of our high school days
As a large stepping stone to our
Welcome niches in the world of work.
Set forth strongly, "O Classmates"!
